

Charter of the Academic Network for Inclusiveness, Multilingualism and Excellence ANIME

The Network will

- draw together a group of selected universities that share similar values and highlight inclusive excellence, multilingualism as well as openness to the civil society ;
- focus on common points and complementarities between Network members and thus participate in the development of strong disciplinary and interdisciplinary inclusive research and training on an international level ;
- promote multilingualism and cultural diversity including openness to French culture and language ;
- involve all academic bodies : teachers, researchers, students, PhD students and administrative staff ;
- provide a framework within which a range of protocols and templates could be developed to promote collaboration and allow cooperative activities to be facilitated ;
- bring a new dimension to Members' international activities by networking and benefiting from others' experiences.

The Network will operate through collaborative approaches

ANIME's members :

Bar Ilan University (Israel), Babes-Bolyai University (Romania), University of Ghana (Ghana), The Hebrew University of Jerusalem (Israel), National University of Cordoba (Argentina), University of Ngaoundéré (Cameroon), Palacky University Olomouc (Czech Republic), University of São Paulo (Brasil), St. Kliment Ohridski University (Bulgaria), Stellenbosch University (South Africa), University of Strasbourg (France)

University of Strasbourg

